

The cumulative irrigation requirement for celery in 2010 was 20<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> inches. This estimate does not take into account deficiencies in irrigation system distribution uniformity.