

The estimated irrigation requirement for sweet corn planted in mid-April, 2010, is 27<sup>1</sup>/<sub>3</sub> inches. This estimate does not take into account extra water required by deficiencies in irrigation uniformity.